PROJECTS

DISCORD MUSIC BOT (Gaming VoIP)                                          Aug 2019

Made with Python and uses discord module to do post and get requests

- Takes user input through message dialog to play music by encoding whatever the user searches into a YouTube search URL, and then scrapes that search URL for the first video link in order to download and play the music audio through audio codecs.

Personal Website                                                       July 2019

Made with standard HTML, CSS, JavaScript, and some Vue components

- Uses some Vue components to make a menu bar and links to GitHub and LinkedIn

Java Drawing Application                                               July 2019

Made with Java, and its Swing library to use certain shapes and features

- Places whatever shape the user desires whenever the mouse triggers an event such as clicking or dragging, and many shapes are placed along the path of the mouse giving off the illusion of using a drawing utensil.

- User can change pen size and save the image that they drew.
